NUMBER 289

STRIKERS RETURN TO WORK IN LARGE NUMBERS MONDAY WILL SEE STRIKE VIRTUALLY ENDED

REPORTS FROM ALL DISTRICTS SHOW
MEN ARE VOTING TO RETURN TO WORK
PENDING WAGE ADJUSTMENT

STRIKE EFFORT AT PEAK IS BELIEF

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 17—Additional thousands of men employed in industry in this section of Pennsylvania were added to the long list of idle workmen here today owing to the switchmen's strike. The pinch of the freight congestion and paralysis is just beginning to be felt in earnest.

While freight service on the Pennsylvania lines out of here showed improvement today on the other roads was completely tied up. Return of strikers and a few crews of switchmen in the Pitsburgh yard of the Pennsylvania was the hopeful development of this morning. One third of the switchmen employed in the Pitsburgh yards are said to have voted to return to work.

Passenger service was normal on all roads entering the city. The P. & L. E. which has not operated for several days was running full schedule on regular time today with all trains running. The B. & O. report the situation as much improved.

SCRANBON, Pa., April 17—Prospects for a settlement of the strike on the Lackawanna Railroad seemed bright here today where a conference is scheduled to take place between strikers and officials of the road. The men will return to work provided the company immediately takes up their grievances which have been filed for several months and agrees that there will be no discrimination in the taking back of the strikers.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 17—Reports from the west show that there is a general resumption of work on the part of striking switchmen excepting small groups here and there. The situation is more promising.

WASHINGTON, April 17—The strike is disintegrating. This was the consensus of opinion gleaned from all sources of information reaching governmental agencies here this morning.

WASHINGTON, April 17—The Railroad Wage Board is prepared today to take up the adjustment of the railroad wage problem. Nothing stands in the way now of a full functioning of the legally constituted wage board.

NEW YORK, April 17—"Outlaw" strikers continue to drift back to their places of employment. Crews are reporting hourly in almost complete units. Practically all the roads are making a concerted effort to stimulate freight movements.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 17—Striking switchmen of the B. & O. railroad here will return to work this afternoon. This announcement was made by J. A. Nee, general chairman of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen after the men had taken a vote on the proposition of returning to work. They voted to return to work in a body.

HAZELTON, Pa., April 17—Nineteen large anthracite mines closed down here today throwing eight thousand men out of employment. The mines were unable to get cars owing to the switchmen's strike.

NEW YORK, April 17—All railroads in New York City reported strikers returning to work in large numbers. Officials of the road confidently expect a full complement of men at work by midnight. The N. Y. N. H. & H. the worst hit road in this district reports great improvement and by this evening ninety per cent of the men will have returned. Freight movements today in the New England district are estimated to be fifty per cent normal with shipping conditions improving hourly.

Live stock is now being accepted for shipment and coal movements are beginning.

PUNXSUTWNEY TO RESUME WORK

DU BOIS, April 17—As the result of a meeting of the striking switchmen at Punxsutawney last evening, it was voted to return to work at noon today. This includes all of the employees of the company who walked out at that place. In view of the fact that the DuBois strikers stated they would return to work when Punxsutawney did, the action at Punxsutawney last evening makes it certain that the switchmen who walked out at that place will also be back on the job by noon today.

The B. & P. officials were notified last evening of the action taken by the strikers and were much gratified to hear of the step taken. The return of these men will make conditions almost normal all over the system.

The local men are returning just at the right time to avoid a further increase in the number of idle men. If the strike had continued for much longer, it would have meant that many of the shipmen would have been forced to lay off, as material was growing scarce.

ALBERT WALTHERS COCHRAN

Albert Walther Cochran, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cochran, who died at the family home, 308 Merrill street on Wednesday night last, was aged 15 years, 11 months and 12 days. The deceased lad was a sturdy active, ambitious boy and a general favorite in his family and with the young folks he associated and up until the time some years ago when serious illness attacked him took an active interest in the youthful activities of the community. A studious pupil in the schools and faithful attendant at church and Sunday school, he did all things well which came to his hand. A few years ago he suffered a severe sick spell but uncomplicatedly bore his cross and after a desperate determined battle was able to get about again and continue his school work. He was again stricken several weeks ago and despite the most heroic fight and all medical skill and tender care and nursing could do for him his strength slowly ebbed away. He met death with the same courage with which he fought the disease which laid him low, and when told the end was near cheerfully resigned himself to his fate and said "let God's will be done."

In addition to his parents he is survived by four sisters and six brothers, viz: Mrs. Emma Fullerton, of Hyde; Misses Margaret, Electa, Lelah, and Carl, Samuel, James, Harry, Frederick and Leo, all of Clearfield.

The funeral will be held from the family home on Merrill street at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The services will be conducted by his pastor Rev. C. C. Snively of the West Side Methodist church. Interment in Hillcrest cemetery.

STRUCK A GUSHER

Some men are born lucky, some fall into luck, while others buy stock in oil territory and strike a gusher in the first well drilled. John Woods, of the firm of Woods Bros., the Keystone ice cream people, is one of these latter favorites of fortune. Some time ago Mr. Woods acquired an interest in some Oklahoma oil properties and yesterday was advised by his partners on the ground that the first well drilled on their property had come in a gusher and things were breaking their way in great shape.

CURWENSVILLE ROAD TO BE PUT IN SHAPE

A joint meeting of the Supervisors of Lawrence and Pike townships and the County Commissioners, was held at the Court House on Thursday last, for the purpose of agreeing upon plans for supplying a proper and negotiable detour or road between Clearfield and Curwensville.

When the work of building the state road between Hyde and Curwensville was begun last summer, the road on the left side of the river was used. It was in bad shape to start with and soon was almost impossible of travel. Its condition can better be imagined than described, and this meeting was called for the purpose of greatly improving conditions. The burden of maintaining detours while state roads are being built, devolves upon the County Commissioners and Supervisors of the districts affected and the responsibility will be accepted cheerfully in this case and the road put into good shape.

This will be good news to the people of this region, as there is no more important road in Clearfield county, and must accommodate an enormous amount of traffic every day.

RECEPTION TO PASTOR

The congregation of the Eleventh Street Methodist Episcopal church gave a reception to their new pastor, Rev. M. S. Derstine, at the church last evening. Those present numbered one hundred and eighty and the warmth of their greeting left no doubt in the mind of Rev. Derstine as to the genuineness of his welcome to Clearfield.

Dr. J. M. Quigley delivered the address of welcome on behalf of the congregation. Rev. Derstine made a particularly happy response and assured his auditors of his very great pleasure at being installed as pastor of their church. Addresses were made during the evening by Revs. Hartman, Snavely and McCurdy of the local and Woodland Methodist churches and Revs. Hummel and Wissinger of the U. B. church. Brief talks were given by several members of the congregation and the evening was most enjoyably spent.

Excellent refreshments were served and the occasion was complete in every particular.

ACTION ON COUNTY BRIDGES EXPECTED ON MONDAY

Action of the Daughin county court upon the Clearfield county application for the building of bridges across the West Branch of the Susquehanna river at Rollingstone and Deer Creek, is expected, following a sitting of the court at Harrisburg on Monday last.

The necessary papers in the case were filed at Harrisburg by County Solicitor Woodward last week, and the appointment of views, which is the next step in the proceedings, is looked for on Monday.

The people of the lower end of the county are seriously inconvenienced by the loss of the bridges, which were carried away by the ice, and are anxiously awaiting their replacement.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Blakely Sr. and Thomas W. Warren extend their sincere thanks to the friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted them during the time of the illness and death of Mrs. Thomas W. Warren and baby daughter Caroline Jean. We shall ever gratefully remember the extreme kindness shown us during this time of our double trial.

COURT NOTES

John K. Gorman entered suit in the Prothonotary's office yesterday, against George J. Mazenko, of Coalport, in which he is seeking to recover $14,157.75, which he alleges is due him for damages to his hotel property at Coalport, which Mazenko formerly occupied.

The statement filed recites that following a petition to the Clearfield county courts a writ of ejectment was issued against Mazenko, July 5, 1919, and he was ordered from the premises.

It is claimed by the owner that before leaving Mazenko proceeded to wreck the house by destroying the acetylene gas generator and lighting system, and tearing up and busting things up in general, including the removal of the furnace.

The actual damages are placed at $915.75 and punitive damages of $500, in addition, are asked.

Anthony Neff filed a petition in the Prothonotary's office, in which he asks for a divorce from his wife, Mary Shiffa Neff. The Neffs were married October 11, 1915, and the wife is alleged to have deserted on May 21, 1918.

Paul Bailey, a DuBois Lothario, who had been a guest of Sheriff Gorman at the county jail since March 23d on a desertion and non-support charge, was before Judge Bell this morning. Bailey's wife and two little children, who had been at the County Home since the recreant husband was in jail, were also present.

After Desertion Officer Stock had detailed his story of the case, Bailey promised to take his family to Elmira, N. Y., and provide for them.

The court made an order accordingly and Bailey was released. He took his family to the County Commissioners office and asked permission to use the phone. He then called his affinity on the phone, told his affinity what had happened and what he had decided to do and then asked permission to bring his wife and family to the "other woman's" home to spend the night while arranging for the trip to Elmira. She was a "good fellow" and told him to fetch them along and they departed on the evening train for DuBois.

Russell Fauver who has been in jail since September on a desertion and non-support charge, agreed to comply with an order for the support of his wife and child and was given till Monday, May 1st to finish a bond guaranteeing compliance with the order.

The Haines case from Decatur township, one of the most pitiable cases to even come before the local courts, was heard but no decision given. The knotty problem in this case was the disposition of a mentally deficient child to which the parents were devotedly attached and begged hard to be allowed to retain.

FINDS THREE DEAD FAWNS

James McPherson, the Montgomery farmer, informs The Progress that he was fishing on the right hand branch of Montgomery creek, a short distance above the water dam yesterday and found the remains of three doe fawns which had perished during the severe weather of last winter. A herd of deer had "yarded up" handy the stream and spent the long winter months there. Mr. McPherson said the sprouts and brush were eaten off down to the top of the snow for several hundred yards, showing how hard put to it the deer were in that region to find sustenance through the winter.

The three dead fawns were found along a path from the "yard" to the stream where the deer had traveled for water. One of the little fellows had died in the stream and the others were lying on the bank nearby. The bodies were removed from the water shed and buried.

STOCK MARKET NOTE

NEW YORK, April 17—There was little of interest in trading on the market this morning. The market closed firm with a small volume of trading.

White House Hopes

Frank O. Lowden

STEPPING STONES IN GOV. LOWDEN'S LIFE

1861—Born at Sunrise, Minnesota.
1868—Moved to Hardin county, Iowa.
1885—Graduated from University of Iowa.
1887—Graduated from Union Law School, Chicago.
1890—Married to Miss Florence Pullman.
1898—Formed law firm of Lowden, Estabrook & Davis.
1898—Appointed Lieutenant Colonel, Illinois National Guard.
1904—Defeated for Republican nomination for governor.
1906—Elected to Congress.
1911—Retired from Congress to engage in farming.
1916—Elected Governor of Illinois.
1920—Candidate for President of the United States.

"Who in Sam Hill ever saw Frank O. Lowden milk a cow?" heckled one of his adversaries during a political meeting in a recent gubernatorial campaign in Illinois. "Yet he claims to be a farmer."

Lowden, the candidate, was on the rostrum and the crowd chuckled at his expense. But when he shot back his quick reply, the chuckles were turned into cheers for Lowden.

"I didn't know," said Lowden, "that the constitution required the governor to possess the ability to milk cows, but if the governorship is to be threshed out on those lines I hereby challenge all who aspire to that high office to an open, free-for-all, public cow-milking contest down on my farm in Ogle county. And I agree to abide by the result."

Friends and supporters of Lowden, "war governor," like to tell about the ambitious struggle through which the barefoot farmer boy, son of the village blacksmith at Sunrise, Minn., was able to save through his own work enough money to educate himself at the University of Iowa, begin a lawyer's career and finally to pass from Congressman to Governor of Illinois, and to Candidate for President of the United States.

Lowden's life is the simple life—close to the farm. Shortly after he had entered on his law practice in Chicago, he bought Sinsinippi Farm, one of the largest tracts of land in Illinois. It is located on Rock river, near the town of Oregon. Since he acquired the property, Governor Lowden has taken intense interest in its operation and development.

When the Lowden family is not in Springfield at the Governor's Mansion, it is usually at Sinsinippi. In addition to their own farm, the Lowdens built nearby two cottages on "Hilltop," a pretty eminence on Rock river, where crippled and orphaned boys and girls are brought from crowded tenement districts of Chicago and kept in care of trained nurses until they regain their health.

Mrs. Lowden, who was Miss Florence Pullman, daughter of the late George M. Pullman, sleeping car builder, is a charming personality, devoted to her home and children and at the same time an interested participant in the social, club and philanthropic life of Chicago and Springfield. The dances, receptions and musicales she has given at the Governor's Mansion in Springfield have been noteworthy.

In the late sixties Lowden's parents left their Sunrise home and went by prairie schooner to Hardin county Iowa. Most of the trip Frank covered on foot, driving the cow and a horse or two. On the Iowa farm young Lowden assisted his father with the crops, but his mind was made up that he was going to get an education. He attended a few terms of the country school near the farm and at 15 he had had so far outdistanced his schoolmates, he was made master of the school.

When he was 20 years old he entered the University of Iowa and for four years he had a constant struggle to make both ends meet. He was graduated in 1885, however, at the head of his class. Later Lowden went to Burlington, Iowa, to teach school. While there he spent his odd moments

MOVEMENT TOWARD ORGANIZATION OF CLEARFIELD BASEBALL CLUB UNDERWAY

The plans for a baseball club for Clearfield are being worked out satisfactorily by the Clearfield County Athletic Association and a good team is being whipped together.

The committee in charge is not only arranging for a team but is also in communication with DuBois, Punxsutawney, Osceola, Huntingdon and Philipsburg with a view to arranging a schedule of games between teams representing these towns.

It is the purpose now to start the season about June 1st and continue on thru until October 1st. This would provide a summer of excellent sport and recreation for everybody.

Several good men have already been signed up for the local team and lines are out for others.

TELEPHONE RATES HEARING WILL BE HELD ON MAY 5

A May date will be selected for hearing complaints against the new tariff of the Bell Telephone company by the Public Service commission and the time may be tentatively agreed upon at the executive session scheduled for tomorrow. The Commission decided some time ago to allow enough time for all communities or individuals interested to enter complaints so that when the hearings begin they can be representative of the whole state. The number of formal complaints is small, the bulk of them being from Philadelphia, but enough are in hand to indicate the character of the objections made.

While complaints and protests against the changes proposed by the Bell have been numerous, there have been only a few complaints filed against dozens of other telephone companies which have advanced rates. The Bell has not been without its partisans, either, as several letters have come from people urging a fair hearing.

Indications are that the Commission will go into the matter extensively, but a valuation proceeding is unlikely in view of the attention given to this side of the Bell business in the last four years.

The Commission will probably determine this week whether to reopen the Pittsburgh Railways case, rehearings having been asked by the city of Pittsburgh and some of the boroughs of Allegheny county.

GREAT DAY AT THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

On Thursday one of the most unique and interesting programs ever given in the town, was carried out in the Presbyterian church by the women of the Missionary Society, of which Mrs. J. W. Leonard is president.

The project was called a Relay Mission Study Class. It was indeed a relay arrangement, for twelve women each were responsible for one chapter of the wonderful Home Mission book by Tomkins, "The Soul of America." Beginning at ten in the morning, Mrs. A. B. Weaver, directing the study, opened the race with the presentation of the gist of the first chapter in her own language. She was followed by the second member of the relay team taking up the second chapter, and so on throughout the whole book.

Between each chapter's presentation was a rest period, and relaxation, in fact the whole day's study was most informal. If any had thought it a waste of valuable time studying the vital needs of our own beloved country, they were agreeably disappointed. Many brought their mending, knitting and darning and worked while listening to the speakers.

An hour was taken for luncheon. Each lady had brought a part of a menu decided on beforehand and a most enjoyable luncheon was served in cafeteria style.

Nearly one hundred women of the church enjoyed the unique day's study and relaxation. There were also a number of ladies from the Curwensville and Glen Richey Presbyterian churches. The next meeting of the Missionary Society will be held on the third Thursday of May. Another unique and interesting program is planned. Not only church members are invited, but any who are interested in the world's work.

ENTERTAINS SEWING CLUB

Mrs. Roy Fullington entertained the Inter-Sewing Club at her home on Fourth street Thursday afternoon. Dainty refreshments were served.

HUNDRED THOUSAND FORD FARM TRACTORS HAVE BEEN MADE

On February 19th at 9 a. m. Fordson Tractor Number 100,000 left the assembly line in the Fordson Plant at Dearborn, Michigan, slightly less than two and one-half years after assembly was completed. And here again has Henry Ford set a new high record in the manufacture of farm tractors via the quantity production method.

Although the Ford inventors got very recent entrance to the ranks of the tractor manufacturers, yet Henry Ford really built a tractor—of the steam type—before he started work on his first gas car. And incidentally that tractor and the first car, still in very good condition, and Mr. Ford occasionally demonstrates both to visitors at his farm in Dearborn.

Some fifteen years ago Mr. Ford began work on what has come to be the Fordson. This tractor was really a Ford car equipped with special wheels and included of course some mechanical changes. By 1905 he had a workable tractor; it plowed, harrowed and did much other work on the farm. Then came the years of experimental work, and the first tractor was put on the market.

Fordson tractors are now being assembled at a rate of 350 daily, at Dearborn, 100 at the St. Louis assembling plant, and it is estimated that within a short time the Des Moines branch will be in operation. There is also an assembling plant at Cork, Ireland.

EARL LAUVER FREED ON ROBBERY CHARGE

Earl Lauver, the local boy who was arrested at Salt Lake City in February last, on a charge of having held up three mail clerks and rifled the mail car of a far western road of $200,000 in money, was released by the authorities, after several weeks' confinement when the real robbers—the mail clerks themselves—were taken into custody and confessed to the crime.

That is the story told The Progress this morning by Earl Lauver's father, who resides on Cemetery Road, and who also informed us that his son was home here on Wednesday last, and offered to make good the amount he secured on forged checks which he passed at the Workman's store and Riverside Hotel.

Mr. Lauver says that while in prison at Salt Lake City his son frustrated a jail delivery when he informed the sheriff of a plan among the real robbers of the mail car, to blow up the jail with dynamite in their possession and make their getaway.

WANT ANOTHER BRIDGE ACROSS RIVER

The people of Girard, Covington and Karlsruhe townships are circulating petitions in the down-river section containing a request for the building of a bridge across the river at Bald Hill and expect to present the same to the County Commissioners for action in the near future. This rapidly growing section of the county is badly handicapped for decent, possible roads, and feel that if a bridge could be built at Bald Hill, they would be enabled to get to the state road at Bigler in a six or eight miles from the river.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It is stated that there are over 200 rafts in the river and tributary streams in the Clearfield lumber district rafted and ready to run to this city.—Lock Haven Express April 15, 1900.

ON THE CAUSES OF THE STRIKE

When an engine stops running the mechanic is not satisfied with merely getting it started again, but he wants to know why it stopped in the first place, and knowing that something is wrong, he sets about to find that wrong and correct it before greater damage is done to the plant. In much the same manner a physician seeks the cause of the physical ailment rather than the immediate remedy.

The switchmen's strike has been sufficiently costly to warrant a searching probe into its causes, and the cause, when found, should be removed. It is hardly possible that we will ever find that royal road to industrial peace which will banish the strike, but there must be a way of preventing the so-called national or general strikes. They strike at the very vitals of our economic life and retard our national progress. By them business is made a horrible nightmare, and the life of the individual a football of circumstance.

The strike of the switchmen cannot be condoned for a minute. Though it was projected without the approval of the recognized union, this is perhaps the least of the reasons why it did not strike a responsive chord with the majority of the people.

The charges made by Attorney General Palmer to the effect that William K. Foster and other labor extremists had instigated the strike in order to disrupt organized labor, is specifically denied by the American Federation of Labor.

Frank Morrison, secretary of the Federation, in a formal statement, declared there was no revolutionary motive in the ranks of the striking workers, and that the walkout had been precipitated solely as a protest against economic conditions.

An investigation of the so-called outlaws strike has been conducted by the Railroad Managers, Morrison stated, with the result that the charges of revolution brought by the Attorney General "had been disproved."

"I can say that the railroad executives are fully informed as to the character of the strike and they know that the outbreak is under no revolutionary direction," said Mr. Morrison.

Investigators had been appointed by the railroad executive, Morrison said, to make a report on the strike and had found that the strike was "all Americanism and entirely devoid of Bolshevism or I. W. Wism."

"I point to this report and the evidence it contains of governmental weakness in dealing with the situation," Mr. Morrison added. "While the government, through the Attorney General, is contemplating repression and punishment, greeting the strike as a crime, the real employers know that the strike is an outbreak against economic conditions. The tactics of the strikers are wrong and cannot be approved by organized labor, but this does not prevent an honest understanding of the case."

The evidence produced by Mr. Palmer, purporting to show that the strike was the work of the Communist Party, does not make, in itself, a very strong case and while there is no doubt that the strike idea would find a fertile field in the radical mind or the mind nurtured on communist propaganda, the response to the strike call by large bodies of loyal Americans in every railroad center, gives rise to the conclusion that these men had real grievances, and were not conspirators in any attempt or near attempt to overthrow the government or provoke lawlessness.

It will be remembered that the strikers have had wage demands pending ever since before the present railroad wage law was enacted, and that the functioning of the new law was held out to them as a promise of at least giving their demands due consideration. The law was passed and several weeks have elapsed since the president signed it. No proof of the functioning of that part of the law providing for the appointment of the Railroad Labor Board was to be had by the men affected. The strike broke out in large industrial centers, such as Chicago, Los Angeles and Jersey City, right after there had been a tremendous increase in rents and other living conditions in these centers. It is reasonable to believe that these men took the strike method of forcing the operation of the law.

With the appointment of the Railroad Labor Board and the notice of the preliminary meeting being held, we beheld a return to work by many bodies of men. The delay in appointing the board, therefore, appears to be one of the causes underlying the strike. It is said that there are extenuating circumstances in this delay. The president is reported to have had great difficulty in getting men to serve on the board. Board members are required to live in Chicago, and many of those who were capable and desirable men, would not take up their residence in Chicago. The tone of the summons issued by the president shows that he anticipated the refusal of some of the appointees to act.

Once the machinery of the Esch-Cummings law is in smooth operation, there should be no excuse for further tie-ups of our national transportation systems.

With the Politicians

Picking the presidential nominee is the most popular indoor sport these days and regardless of the scarcity of newsprint we are going to give herewith some lengthy but interesting dope on the general situation as we have been able to glean it from the news this week.

Massachusetts will elect thirty-five delegates at the primaries to be held there today. Delaware will also vote today on their delegation of six members. Wood is expected to get at least twelve of the Massachusetts delegation and probably more. Delaware is expected to follow its traditional custom of sending uninstructed delegates. Illinois voted for Lowden and Tennessee went for Wood. These are the developments of this week.

The Democratic situation, just like the country at large, is tied up with that style of democracy known "Wilson". No Democrat dare speak until the "big chief" in Washington gives the high sign. If anyone can dope out where the president is on the proposition he can make a sure guess on what the Democratic convention will do.

A grand old-fashioned free for all is being staged in Republican circles. Real democracy exists there, not alone in party affairs, but in principles as well. With so many in the field and no one of them having the jump on any other it is quite apparent that a coalition of the followers of two or more of the candidates would land the nomination. There have been hints that the Wood followers, fearing the ironies being made by Mr. Hoover, have made overtures to him but the food dictator, as he has retained some qualities as a "dictator" and refuses to play. The result in Michigan rather put a crimp in the Wood campaign when Hiram Johnson cleaned him up out there. The charge of great sums of money being used by corporate interests, whether true or untrue, have not added to the popularity of the military man. The Nebraska, Ohio and Indiana primaries to be held in about two weeks will spell defeat or victory for the general as to delegates. Governor Lowden, on account of the close proximity to these three states, may cut in on the Wood lead. Lowden leaders claim that they do not fear Wood as much as they do Johnson who because of his radical tendencies is popular in the middle west. California, the home state of both Johnson and Hoover, will be a storm center. A few weeks ago California looked like a dead horse for Johnson but since that time he is said to have strengthened his fences and will bowl out the food dictator.

Wood, Johnson, Hoover and Lowden are the four Republicans who are most in the public eye and are most watched by political leaders of all camps. The groomers of the dark horses are hoping that these four will go to it, neck and neck and finish in like manner on the eve of the convention. There is a possibility that these four will eat each other up and open up an avenue for the selection of a candidate who has not been embroiled in the primary fights. One thing is quite significant. It is considered almost criminal for a Pennsylvanian to mention Sprout as a candidate for the presidency so far as Mr. Penrose is concerned. There are more popular men in the party than Harding who is believed to be the real choice of the national Republican organization. Sprout is popular, not alone in his native state, but throughout the whole country. Sprout may be the dark horse of the 1920 convention and Pennsylvanians are fervently hoping that he will be.

Mr. Hoover's profession of faith has had little effect on Senator Penrose. The Senator evidently looks upon Hoover's recent utterances as more or less of a death-bed repentance. He refuses to believe that Mr. Hoover is any other than an adherent to the Wilson end of the Democratic party. Speaking of presidential possibilities on the Republican ticket, Mr. Penrose said, "Pennsylvania's delegation will go unbossed and free of back stairs influence, and in position to play a more prominent role than ever before in the deliberations of the convention if they stick together."

It is to be hoped that the Pennsylvania delegation can, and will, stick together. With Johnson, Hoover, Wood and a dozen other active candidates in the field, there is a great opportunity for Pennsylvania, even though she is a sure state, to name the man. Never before have the Republicans of Pennsylvania had a man to name who measures up to the job. This year we have in Governor William E. Sprout, a man who could carry the country this fall in an unheard-of avalanche of votes. Pennsylvanians would breathe a sigh of relief if they were assured that our governor would be given a law when the time comes.

Following on the heels of Bryan's statement that it will be "suicide"

for the democratic party to go before the country supporting Article 10 unchanged, Senator Walsh of Massachusetts says the democratic party faces "a catastrophe in the coming pre-idential election" if the San Francisco convention does not repudiate the stand of the President for unmodified ratification. This is democratic opinion of the consequences of Wilson leadership.

Once more the public interest has suffered from the delay and dilly-dallying of the administration and its failure to give prompt attention to the domestic affairs of the American people. Though the railway act was passed long ago, the President pottered around about naming the rail way labor board under it, just as he failed to fill promptly the vacante on the interstate commerce commission. This failure has been an important cause of the railway strike which has brought critical conditions in numerous centers of population.

A recent act of the Pennsylvania legislature provided for the appointment in each county of a Transfer Inheritance Tax Examiner. The law is now in full force and effect and all inheritances are subject to review by this official. The appointments are made by the Auditor General of the state. For Clearfield county Alton D. Davis, of Clearfield, has been appointed to this position which pays $1200 per year and since it does not require full time and permits the officer to follow other vocations is a most desirable place. Mr. Davis is a fine young man who has won a host of friends, since he came here about a year ago from Philadelphia. He is a native of the upper end of the county and while he worked for some time in Centre county he always claimed Clearfield county as his residence. Mr. Davis is employed as accountant in the office of the Maple Run Coal company and is a brother-in-law of John Forsyth. The appointment was made on the recommendation of Harry Boulton and other prominent Republicans of this county.

At the last moment a number of fellows took a notion to shy their hat into the political arena and ask for public office. Two of these were J. E. Buchanan, of DuBois and J. E. Law of DuBois, both of whom aspire to represent this county in the legislature as Republicans. Mr. Buchanan is a retired furniture dealer of DuBois and Mr. Law is a railroad er by occupation. Both men are hale fellows, well met, and stand well in that community. Wm. T. DeHaas of Clearfield (Cousin Bill) is also in the race and the last we saw of him he was mud from head to feet owing to the "hoofers hack" canvass he is making.

The Progress has received the following letter from H. H. Sweeney

FOR GENERAL ASSEMBLY
We are authorized to announce the name of J. C. Buchanan, of DuBois, Pa., as a candidate for the office of Assemblyman, subject to the rules of the Republican party, at the primaries, May 18, 1920. J. C. BUCHANAN, P. O. address, DuBois, Pa. A14-6dp

St. Petersburg, Fla., April 12

"Clearfield Progress:
"Dear Sirs: On account of poor health I shall not be a candidate for Republican county chairman at the coming election.

"Thanking my Republican friends for their loyalty and kindness shown to me during my term, I am,
"Sincerely yours for the success of the party.

"H. H. Sweeney, Co. Chairman."
The determination of Mr. Sweeney not to run for the office of county chairman leaves the field clear to Lee Edwards, and assures his election to this office. Mr. Edwards is a young man who is recognized as eminently fitted for the position.

Mr. Sweeney's friends will be sorry to learn of his continued illness and he has every wish of the people of the county that with the coming of the spring his health will be restored to him.

Selection of a chairman for the Republican national convention is already the concern of the various candidates and party leaders. A conference was held in New York today, at which the matter was discussed profoundly. Among those prominently mentioned the Senators Borah, Lodge, Penrose, Knox and Watson.

Joe Phillips is a mighty busy man these days, he being one of the contractors on the new Hotel Phillips, at Phillipsburg, and having half a dozen other jobs to look after. Joe, however, in line with his past activities, can always find time to talk a little politics and is losing no opportunity to keep his friends lined up. As usual, etc. are two to one on Joe leading the ticket on May 18th.

HER BOY HAD ALWAYS BEEN WEAK AND PUNY

Now he eats everything in sight and romps with playmates.

"My four year old boy had been weak and puny since birth, and had constipation and indigestion. Nothing did him any good until we tried Milks Emulsion. Since using it, he can't get enough to eat and has outgrown his childhood troubles. He plays out with the children now, and he was never able to do that before."—Wm. Heart, 424 Bundy Ave., New Castle, Ind.

Weak, ailing children usually start eating and getting stronger from the very first bottle of Milks Emulsion. Most children like to take it, because it really tastes good. A trial costs nothing.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whom sickness has weakened, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day. It produces remarkable results in colds, coughs and bronchial asthma.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere. Guaranteed by Stewart's Drug Store.

Valuable Rules for the Care of Your Eyes
When your eyes have to be frequently rubbed it is time to consult a competent Ophthalmologist.

Don't read with the light in front of you. The light should come obliquely over the left shoulder. Don't read with the sun shining directly on your book. Don't go to sleep or even take a nap in such a position that your eyes will open directly on the light. When you hold the newspaper or book at arm length to read it, its a sure sign something is wrong.

Always hold your head erect when you read and the book about 14 inches away from the eyes.

Use shade on every light. Never read in a recking position. Be sure the light is clear and good. Avoid small print. Rest your eyes while reading. Bathe the eyes frequently with pure water.

FAINTING AND DIZZY SPELLS
The Cause of such Symptoms and Remedy Told in This Letter.

Syracuse, N. Y.—"When I commenced the Change of Life I was poorly, had no appetite and had fainting spells. I suffered for two years before I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and the Liver Pills which I saw advertised in the papers and in your little books. I took about twelve bottles of your Vegetable Compound and found it a wonderful remedy. I commenced to pick up at once and my suffering was relieved. I have told others about your medicine and know of some who have taken it. I am glad to help others all I can."—Mrs. R. E. DEXTER, 437 W. Lafayette Ave., Syracuse, N. Y.

While Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, the annoying symptoms which accompany it may be controlled, and normal health restored by the timely use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Moreover this reliable remedy contains no narcotics or harmful drugs and owes its efficiency to the medicinal extracts of the native roots and herbs which it contains.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The Ford car can well be called the "people's car," because there are more than 3,000,000 of them in daily operation. That is about four to one of the nearest follower in the motor car industry. This would not be so if the Ford car had not for sixteen years proven its superiority in service, in durability, and in the low cost for operation and maintenance; this would not be so if the Ford car was not so easy to understand, so simple in construction that anybody and everybody can safely drive it. SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Teacher of English Bible in the Moody

LESSON FOR APRIL 18

THE VICTORY OF GIDEON'S BAND.

LESSON TEXT—Judges 7.
GOLDEN TEXT—There is no restraint to the Lord to save by many or by few.—1 Sam. 14:6.
ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Judges 6:1-40; 8:1-25.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Gideon and His Three Hundred.
JUNIOR TOPIC—How Gideon Won a Victory.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Victory by God's Help.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—One With God a Majority.

So grievous was Israel's affliction that they hid in dens, caves and strongholds (Judges 6:2). In their distress they cried unto the Lord, and again he heard them and sent deliverance. The angel of the Lord appeared to Gideon while at the post of duty. God always calls men who are doing something. Gideon's hesitancy when called was not due to unbelief, but to modesty and cautiousness. When once he was convinced of duty he was courageous and enthusiastic.

I. The Opposing Army (v. 1).

Gideon and his army arose early on that eventful day and encamped by the spring of Harod. Over against them was the host of the Midianites in battle array. His army was insignificant in comparison with the Midianites.

II. The Sifting of Gideon's Army (vv. 2-8).

At Gideon's call 32,000 men responded, ready for the struggle. This seemed a small army to go against the Midianite army, 135,000 strong, but God said this was too many lest they be led to boasting and self-confidence. Their real danger was not in their small army, but in their pride. All that were faint-hearted were allowed to go back, leaving only 10,000. There were 22,000 cowards in that group of men, and, worst of all, they were not ashamed to confess it. Still this was too many. When God was through with his sifting process only 300 remained. The 10,000 were brave men, but not of proper quality and fitness. Those who lapped the water showed alertness and watchfulness. This test revealed the quality and fitness of the men whom God would use to win victory.

III. God Gives Encouragement to Gideon (vv. 9-15).

God bade Gideon go down to the Midianite camp, where he would hear something which would cheer his heart and strengthen his hands. When he came near he heard a man tell a dream, which was that of a barley cake tumbling into the camp and smiting it. He also heard the interpretation given to that dream, which made Gideon to be that cake. This greatly cheered his heart and strengthened him for his work, and caused his heart to burst forth in praise to God. A barley cake is a very insignificant thing, a very cheap affair in itself, but with the hand of God upon it, it would be sufficient to spread consternation upon the Midianites and bring destruction upon their armies.

IV. God Gives Victory to Gideon (vv. 16-23).

His army was very insignificant and his weapons most worthless. His attack was unique. The whole matter was of faith (Heb. 11:32). The ground of his faith was God's word and the token which he had given him. God does not ask us to go forward without good ground upon which to rest our faith. Gideon with his 300 men formed into three companies, each man being provided with a trumpet and with a lamp concealed within a pitcher. Thus armed, they surrounded the camp of the Midianites. They were all instructed to keep their eyes upon their leader and imitate him. We, too, are to keep our eyes on our leader, Christ, and to ever do as he does. At the proper moment they blew their trumpets and broke their pitchers, giving opportunity for their lights to shine out. This awful crash of breaking pitchers, following the sound of trumpets, accompanied by the shout, "The sword of the Lord and of Gideon," threw the Midianites into a panic, causing them to fight among themselves. One hundred and twenty thousand were thus slain, leaving but 15,000 of that mighty army (Judges 8:10).

In making the application to ourselves in this age, we can think of the sounding of the trumpets as representing prayer, or calling to God; the torches, as the light of the gospel; the pitchers, our human nature; and the whole, as this treasure in earthen vessels. Only as the pitchers were broken to allow the light to shine forth, and as we sound loud and long the trumpet of prayer can we expect victory.

Doing the Will of God.

The end of life is to do the will of God, whatever that may be; if we could have no ambition past the will of God, our lives would be successful, for the maximum achievement of any man's life, after it is all over, is to have done the will of God.—Professor Drummond.

Say Not.

Say not unto thy neighbor, "Go and come again, and tomorrow I will give," when thou hast it by thee.—Persian Proverb.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hoover are spending the week end with the former's mother in Munson.

Sunday With the Churches

SPECIAL MEETING OF THE SALVATION ARMY

On Sunday evening at 8 o'clock, Corps Cadet Mary Senger will deliver her farewell address and say good-bye to Clearfield, to go out in the work of bringing the good news to sinners that there is hope for them, as Jesus not only died that they might live, but that He also arose and stands at the right hand of God, the Father, to make intercession for us. "All have sinned and come far short of the glory of God." (Romans III, 23). Some years ago the world was stirred by the "boy preacher," but have you heard Clearfield's "girl preacher?" The Corps Cadet is only 15 years old but you ought to see what God can make out of girl of 15 years. She may be heard on both Saturday and Sunday evenings of this week. Come, you are welcome. God bless you. CAPT. AND Mrs. ROUB. (P. S., Corps Cadet goes to DuBois to assist there on Wednesday.)

GRAMPIAN

If Kidneys Act Bad Take Salts

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers —Meat forms uric acid.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

Coal haulers have advanced the price of coal two cents per bushel, the price now asked being 16 cents. Just why this raise, at this particular time of the year, is hard to figure out. The bank price is just the same today as during the coldest weather, and for what reason two cents per bushel should be tacked onto the consumer is hard to explain. To the people it resembles a get-rich-quick idea, which wants to be knocked in the head quickly.

A number of trout streams were thoroughly tested out yesterday by nummies who delight in that sport. John Kelly and one or two others succeeded in capturing the limit, while Barber Strickland became bewildered in his woodcraft in hill lying between Bear Run and the T. Irvin Run, but succeeded in making his way home, bringing along an appetite and two weary-legged companions, who followed him over mountain and through vale as their guide. Strick ought to join the boy scouts and study woodcraft.

Hot Water Each Morning Puts Roses in Your Cheeks

To look one's best and feel one's best, before putting food into the stomach.

Girls and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphated hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, purifies and freshens the skin on the outside so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is just as important as outside cleanliness. Because the skin pores do not absorb limestone phosphate in it, which is a superb purifier into the blood, where it means of washing the waste bowel pores. 2 Women who desire to eliminate toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus clearing the beauty of their complexion, and purifying the entire body, this is a must.

"MALE AND FEMALE"

A Paramount Arcraft Picture

Adapted for the screen by Jeanie Macpherson

Showing Now to great audiences at America's biggest theatres

THE great new luxurious De Mille Production, "Male and Female," is drawing tremendous crowds at scores of the biggest theatres in America.

This Paramount Arcraft Picture is founded on Sir James M. Barrie's play, "The Admirable Crichton," which has one of the most fascinating plots ever made.

People who have seen the pick of the finest photoplays for years past say Cecil De Mille has broken all spectacular records with "Male and Female."

The dressing and presentation of a motion picture were never done with more lavish and skilful hand.

An endeavor will be made to show "Male and Female" to the entire picture-going public of the country.

"BLIND HUSBANDS" WONDERFUL PICTURE

An unusual story on a daring theme amid awe-inspiring scenery are the characteristics of "Blind Husbands," the Universal film story of the Tyrolean Alps, which opened last night at the Driggs Theatre.

The story carries the spectator to a fashionable hotel in the Alps where an amazing intrigue of love is presented to the most dramatic conclusion imaginable.

A famous American physician finds his wife on the verge of entering into an unsavory alliance with an Austrian officer. He makes the discovery while the weakling officer is in the jagged ice-trap of the mountains, powerless to save his own life.

The climax is a smashing indictment of men who tamper with the wives of other men. It is a vigorous lesson in decency, cleanly told.

Eric Stroheim depicts the role of the Austrian officer. Francella Billington is Margaret Armstrong, wife of the famous American surgeon.

Supporting the two principal players is a strong cast of favorite Universal players, composed of Sam De Grasse, H. Gibson-Gowland, Valerie Germonprez and Jack Perrin.

"Blind Husbands" is in itself a vigorous drama, a beautiful travelogue and an entirely satisfactory and entertaining photoplay.

Last showing tonight.

WHO'S YOUR SERVANT?

STARTLING PLAY IS ON THE SCREEN

"Who's Your Servant?" Filmed Form of Drama Which Thrilled New York

Julian Johnson's play which startled New York during its long run at the Princess Theatre, has been closely followed by its sensational filmed version, "Who's Your Servant?" which will be seen at the Liberty Theatre next Monday afternoon and evening. It is the most thrilling and vivid study of that most treacherous of criminals, the plotting house servant, which ever has been seen upon the screen.

One of the central figures of the picture is a valet, who is an Oriental, educated in an American University, in love with riches and fine living, and still, by reason of his nationality, unable to do anything above menial work in this country. A high naval officer entrusted with some of the most vital secrets of the American

Navy, is constantly waited upon by the house servant, who has the means of knowing the innermost secrets which the naval officer possesses.

Steals Secret Plan.

For instance, when the official has in his keeping a secret plan of the navy, the house servant finds it out, and steals it. He has been so trusted that suspicion does not fall upon him at once. But the beautiful daughter of the naval officer knows more about the Oriental than do the others. For, on top of his other treachery, he has attempted to make love to the girl. Believing that she can get back the stolen plans, the girl allows the servant to continue his attentions, and goes to his room at night.

There, as he boasts of his theft, she grabs away from him the plan. He starts after her, murder and rage in his heart. How her desperate situation is overcome, and the traitor sent to his deserved end, are told in the picture, the latter end of which is filled with scenes of quick dramatic action.

White House Hopes

In studying law books he was able to borrow or buy.

"While I was in Burlington," said Lowden, recalling his early days, "I was dead set on becoming a lawyer. One day I ran across a man who said he could get me a job in a law office in Chicago. I went to the city and sure enough I landed a job with Herick, Dexter & Allen as clerk at $8 a week.

"That was less than I had been earning as a teacher, but as I was determined to learn something while I worked I considered myself lucky to get even that much."

Lowden enrolled in the Union College of Law's night courses with an additional hour in the morning from 8 to 9 o'clock. Working in the law office from 9 to 5, he was able to go to his classes in the evenings from 7 to 10. Between 5 and 7, after work hours, he did his studying. By strict application, he completed the two-year course in a year.

At commencement, Lowden was pleased to find he had been picked a one of the six men to make addresses. More surprised than ever, he said, he was told that he had been chosen valedictorian. Then on top of all that, Judge Booth, dean of the school, announced, much to Lowden's surprise and delight, that the Iowa had won two $50 prizes, one for oratory and the other for scholarship.

"That gave me a chance to clean up some old debts," said Lowden.

In the early nineties Lowden started out for himself. He formed the law firm of Lowden, Estabrook & Davis and it was only a matter of months before he had built up a reputation of an astute and successful practitioner, a leading member of the Chicago bar.

In 1896 came Lowden's marriage to Miss Pullman.

When Lowden was firmly established as attorney he began to take an interest in politics. In addition to his activity in local Republican politics in Chicago, Lowden was elected as a delegate to the Republican convention of 1900 that nominated McKinley and Roosevelt for President and Vice President, respectively. During the campaign of that year he was on the stump on various occasions pleading for their election.

In 1904 Lowden appeared as a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor. He was defeated by a combination of the Yates and Deneen forces, but when active campaigning against the Democrats began Lowden was on the platform speaking for Charles S. Deneen, who was ultimately elected.

Lowden was elected to Congress in 1906 from the 13th Illinois district. He served two terms and half of the third and then retired to personally supervise operation of his newly acquired farm at Oregon, Ill. From 1911 until 1916 Lowden, although along an interest in politics and national affairs, stuck to his hoe at Mississippi. During most of that time he was a member of the Republican national committee, but never sought office.

When the 1916 gubernatorial campaign opened, Lowden was again on the battleground. Accepting the Republican nomination, he was elected governor by a majority of 149,842 votes and in January, 1917, began his term as "war governor."

In the first legislature convening in the Lowden administration, the Governor obtained enactment of the Civil Administration code, reducing the number of departments, boards and commissions at Springfield from 125 to 9 and centralizing to such an extent that in spite of the high cost of doing business, taxes were lowered.

Wanted Smell to Materialize.

John had been taken by his mother for a long ride to see an old aunt who was slow in getting the dinner on the table. John was hungry, in and could smell the dinner. Finally, in order to hurry things a little, he edged up to the aunt and said: "I'll be so glad when I can taste that smell, won't you?"

Solitudes of the Earth.

The Bushmanland desert, in southwest Africa, is but little known. A few nomads—some of European and some of mixed descent—hang on its fringe. Here and there mat-house villages, whose dwellers depend on the sparse bounty of the sky, will perhaps be found for a season. Otherwise it is a barren desert of 50,000 square miles.

Use Butterflies as Food.

Butterflies, which are very prolific in Australia, are suffocated in millions by the aborigines and separated from their wings, pressed into cakes and eaten.

Girl's Best Compliment.

Perhaps the highest compliment ever paid by one girl to another came to our ears yesterday when we overheard the former say: "Why, she'd look pretty in a danseette nightgown."

Excess of Food Blamed.

Dr. Pritchard, an English practitioner, believes that most of the digestive troubles of infants and young children are due to excess of food. And, besides the direct derangements of the stomach and intestines, these have an effect upon the whole system and may in the long run make it more susceptible to catching other diseases.

Flaws in Diamonds.

Flaws in the diamond consist largely of black or carbon spots. These are formed of uncrystallized carbon. Nature in the case of the spotted diamond stayed her hand before she had completed the process of perfect crystallization.

"Many a Mickle."

If every home—we have 20,000,000 of them—should waste on the average one-half cup of milk daily, it would mean a waste of 2,500,000 quarts daily—912,500,000 quarts a year—the total product of more than 400,000 cows.

Ring Strangely Recovered.

A wedding ring was found in the stomach of a cod caught on the Grand banks. The ring belonged to Mrs. Pauline Burnham, an English woman, who had lost it when the steamship Anglo-Saxon went down in 1861. The fisherman traced the ownership of the ring and sent it back to the son of Mrs. Burnham, who is said to have rewarded him with a present of $250.

Hare an "Old Settler."

With a known lineage trailing through 3,000 dusty years the hare may well be called one of the ancient inhabitants of the earth. Among the oldest Jews the hare and its near relative, the coney of the rocks, were excluded from the ranks of edible animals; but as the flesh of the hare was found to be both nutritious and wholesome the prejudice against it gradually disappeared and it began to be grown and domesticated for food.

To Darken Hair Apply Sage Tea

A few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur brings back its vigor, color, gloss and youthfulness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not unattractive, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with

420,000 Calls From Which We Derive No Income

Our free radius calls have cost us a vast amount of money. And from the free radius we derive no income except from pay station calls, and that amount is negligible.

Figures show us that between the Philipsburg and Clearfield sections there were more than 420,000 calls during 1919. These calls originated from all classes of 'phones for which you were paying a rate that did not meet the expenses of the exchange on which you are a subscriber.

Yet there was an eighteen mile stretch that must be kept intact thru the summer with its disastrous lightning, and the winter with its wire-breaking sleet. And from that huge investment in wire, poles, insulators, cross-arms, braces, etc., we derive no income except the pay station income.

Is that a fair deal? Ask yourself.

STRIKERS RETURN TO WORK IN LARGE NUMBERS MONDAY WILL SEE STRIKE VIRTUALLY ENDED

REPORTS FROM ALL DISTRICTS SHOW
MEN ARE VOTING TO RETURN TO WORK
PENDING WAGE ADJUSTMENT

STRIKE EFFORT AT PEAK IS BELIEVED

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 17—Additional thousands of men employed in industry in this section of Pennsylvania were added to the long list of idle workmen here today owing to the switchmen's strike. The pinch of the freight congestion and paralysis is just beginning to be felt in earnest.

While freight service on the Pennsylvania lines out of here showed improvement today on the other roads was completely tied up. Return of strikers and a few crews of switchmen in the Pitsburgh yard of the Pennsylvania was the hopeful development of this morning. One third of the switchmen employed in the Pitsburgh yards are said to have voted to return to work.

Passenger service was normal on all roads entering the city. The P. & L. E. which has not operated for several days was running full schedule on regular time today with all trains running. The B. & O. report the situation as much improved.

SCRANFON, Pa., April 17—Prospects for a settlement of the strike on the Lackawanna Railroad seemed bright here today where a conference is scheduled to take place between strikers and officials of the road. The men will return to work provided the company immediately takes up their grievances which have been filed for several months and agrees that there will be no discrimination in the taking back of the strikers.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 17—Reports from the west show that there is a general resumption of work on the part of striking switchmen excepting small groups here and there. The situation is more promising.

WASHINGTON, April 17—The strike is disintegrating. This was the consensus of opinion gleaned from all sources of information reaching governmental agencies here this morning.

WASHINGTON, April 17—The Railroad Wage Board is prepared today to take up the adjustment of the railroad wage problem. Nothing stands in the way now of a full functioning of the legally constituted wage board.

NEW YORK, April 17—"Outlaw" strikers continue to drift back to their places of employment. Crews are reporting hourly in almost complete units. Practically all the roads are making a concerted effort to stimulate freight movements.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 17—Striking switchmen of the B. & O. railroad here will return to work this afternoon. This announcement was made by J. A. Nee, general chairman of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen after the men had taken a vote on the proposition of returning to work. They voted to return to work in a body.

HAZELTON, Pa., April 17—Nineteen large anthracite mines closed down here today throwing eight thousand men out of employment. The mines were unable to get cars owing to the switchmen's strike.

NEW YORK, April 17—All railroads in New York City reported strikers returning to work in large numbers. Officials of the road confidently expect a full complement of men at work by midnight. The N. Y. N. H. & H. the worst hit road in this district reports great improvement and by this evening ninety per cent of the men will have returned. Freight movements today in the New England district are estimated to be fifty per cent normal with shipping conditions improving hourly.

Live stock is now being accepted for shipment and coal movements are beginning.

PUNXSUTWNEY TO RESUME WORK

DU BOIS, April 17—As the result of a meeting of the striking switchmen at Punxsutawney last evening, it was voted to return to work at noon today. This includes all of the employees of the company who walked out at that place. In view of the fact that the DuBois strikers stated they would return to work when Punxsutawney did, the action at Punxsutawney last evening makes it certain that the switchmen who walked out at that place will also be back on the job by noon today.

The B. & P. officials were notified last evening of the action taken by the strikers and were much gratified to hear of the step taken. The return of these men will make conditions almost normal all over the system.

The local men are returning just at the right time to avoid a further increase in the number of idle men. If the strike had continued for much longer, it would have meant that many of the shipmen would have been forced to lay off, as material was growing scarce.

ALBERT WALTHERS COCHRAN

Albert Walther Cochran, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cochran, who died at the family home, 308 Merrill street on Wednesday night last, was aged 15 years, 11 months and 12 days. The deceased lad was a sturdy, active, ambitious boy and a general favorite in his family and with the young folks he associated and up until the time some years ago when serious illness attacked him took an active interest in the youthful activities of the community. A studious pupil in the schools and faithful attendant at church and Sunday school, he did all things well which came to his hand. A few years ago he suffered a severe sick spell but uncomplicatedly bore his cross and after a desperate determined battle was able to get about again and continue his school work. He was again stricken several weeks ago and despite the most heroic fight and all medical skill and tender care and nursing could do for him his strength slowly ebbed away. He met death with the same courage with which he fought the disease which laid him low, and when told the end was near cheerfully resigned himself to his fate and said "let God's will be done."

In addition to his parents he is survived by four sisters and six brothers, viz: Mrs. Emma Fullerton, of Hyde; Misses Margaret, Electa, Lelah, and Carl, Samuel, James, Harry, Frederick and Leo, all of Clearfield.

The funeral will be held from the family home on Merrill street at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The services will be conducted by his pastor Rev. C. C. Snively of the West Side Methodist church. Interment in Hillcrest cemetery.

STRUCK A GUSHER

Some men are born lucky, some fall into luck, while others buy stock in oil territory and strike a gusher in the first well drilled. John Woods, of the firm of Woods Bros., the Keystone ice cream people, is one of these latter favorites of fortune. Some time ago Mr. Woods acquired an interest in some Oklahoma oil properties and yesterday was advised by his partners on the ground that the first well drilled on their property had come in a gusher and things were breaking their way in great shape.

CURWENSVILLE ROAD TO BE PUT IN SHAPE

A joint meeting of the Supervisors of Lawrence and Pike townships and the County Commissioners, was held at the Court House on Thursday last, for the purpose of agreeing upon plans for supplying a proper and negotiable detour or road between Clearfield and Curwensville.

When the work of building the state road between Hyde and Curwensville was begun last summer, the road on the left side of the river was used. It was in bad shape to start with and soon was almost impossible of travel. Its condition could better be imagined than described, and this meeting was called for the purpose of greatly improving conditions. The burden of maintaining detours while state roads are being built, devolves upon the County Commissioners and Supervisors of the districts affected and the responsibility will be accepted cheerfully in this case and the road put into good shape.

This will be good news to the people of this region, as there is no more important road in Clearfield county, and must accommodate an enormous amount of traffic every day.

RECEPTION TO PASTOR

The congregation of the Eleventh Street Methodist Episcopal church gave a reception to their new pastor, Rev. M. S. Derstine, at the church last evening. Those present numbered one hundred and eighty and the warmth of their greeting left no doubt in the mind of Rev. Derstine as to the genuineness of his welcome to Clearfield.

Dr. J. M. Quigley delivered the address of welcome on behalf of the congregation. Rev. Derstine made a particularly happy response and assured his auditors of his very great pleasure at being installed as pastor of their church.

Addresses were made during the evening by Revs. Hartman, Snively and McCurdy of the local and Woodland Methodist churches and Revs. Hummel and Wissinger of the U. B. church. Brief talks were given by several members of the congregation and the evening was most enjoyably spent.

Excellent refreshments were served and the occasion was complete in every particular.

ACTION ON COUNTY BRIDGES EXPECTED ON MONDAY

Action of the Daughin county court upon the Clearfield county application for the building of bridges across the West Branch of the Susquehanna river at Rollingstone and Deer Creek, is expected, following a sitting of the court at Harrisburg on Monday last.

The necessary papers in the case were filed at Harrisburg by County Solicitor Woodward last week, and the appointment of views, which is the next step in the proceedings, is looked for on Monday.

The people of the lower end of the county are seriously inconvenienced by the loss of the bridges, which were carried away by the ice, and are anxiously awaiting their replacement.

COURT NOTES

John K. Gorman entered suit in the Prothonotary's office yesterday, against George J. Mazenko, of Coalport, in which he is seeking to recover $14,157.75, which he alleges is due him for damages to his hotel property at Coalport, which Mazenko formerly occupied.

The statement filed recites that following a petition to the Clearfield county courts a writ of ejectment was issued against Mazenko, July 5, 1919, and he was ordered from the premises.

It is claimed by the owner that before leaving Mazenko proceeded to wreck the house by destroying the acetylene gas generator and lighting system, and tearing up and busting things up in general, including the removal of the furnace.

The actual damages are placed at $915.75 and punitive damages of $500, in addition, are asked.

Anthony Neff filed a petition in the Prothonotary's office, in which he asks for a divorce from his wife, Mary Shiffa Neff. The Neffs were married October 11, 1915, and the wife is alleged to have deserted on May 21, 1918.

Paul Bailey, a DuBois Lothario, who had been a guest of Sheriff Gorman at the county jail since March 23d on a desertion and non-support charge, was before Judge Bell this morning. Bailey's wife and two little children, who had been at the County Home since the recreant husband was in jail, were also present.

After Desertion Officer Stock had detailed his story of the case, Bailey promised to take his family to Elmira, N. Y., and provide for them.

The court made an order accordingly and Bailey was released. He took his family to the County Commissioners office and asked permission to use the phone. He then called his affinity on the phone, told his affinity what had happened and what he had decided to do and then asked permission to bring his wife and family to the "other woman's" home to spend the night while arranging for the trip to Elmira. She was a "good fellow" and told him to fetch them along and they departed on the evening train for DuBois.

Russell Fauver who has been in jail since September on a desertion and non-support charge, agreed to comply with an order for the support of his wife and child and was given till Monday, May 1st to finish a bond guaranteeing compliance with the order.

The Haines case from Decatur township, one of the most pitiable cases to even come before the local courts, was heard but no decision given. The knotty problem in this case was the disposition of a mentally deficient child to which the parents were devotedly attached and begged hard to be allowed to retain.

FINDS THREE DEAD FAWNS

James McPherson, the Montgomery farmer, informs The Progress that he was fishing on the right hand branch of Montgomery creek, a short distance above the water dam yesterday and found the remains of three doe fawns which had perished during the severe weather of last winter. A herd of deer had "yarded up" handy the stream and spent the long winter months there. Mr. McPherson said the sprouts and brush were eaten off down to the top of the snow for several hundred yards, showing how hard put to it the deer were in that region to find sustenance through the winter.

The three dead fawns were found along a path from the "yard" to the stream where the deer had traveled for water. One of the little fellows had died in the stream and the others were lying on the bank nearby. The bodies were removed from the water shed and buried.

White House Hopes

Frank O. Lowden

STEPPING STONES IN GOV. LOWDEN'S LIFE

1861—Born at Sunrise, Minnesota.
1868—Moved to Hardin county, Iowa.
1885—Graduated from University of Iowa.
1887—Graduated from Union Law School, Chicago.
1890—Married to Miss Florence Pullman.
1894—Formed law firm of Lowden, Estabrook & Davis.
1898—Appointed Lieutenant Colonel, Illinois National Guard.
1904—Defeated for Republican nomination for governor.
1906—Elected to Congress.
1911—Retired from Congress to engage in farming.
1916—Elected Governor of Illinois.
1920—Candidate for President of the United States.

"Who in Sam Hill ever saw Frank O. Lowden milk a cow?" heckled one of his adversaries during a political meeting in a recent gubernatorial campaign in Illinois. "Yet he claims to be a farmer."

Lowden, the candidate, was on the rostrum and the crowd chuckled at his expense. But when he shot back his quick reply, the chuckles were turned into cheers for Lowden.

"I didn't know," said Lowden, "that the constitution required the governor to possess the ability to milk cows, but if the governorship is to be threshed out on those lines I hereby challenge all who aspire to that high office to an open, free-for-all, public cow-milking contest down on my farm in Ogle county. And I agree to abide by the result."

Friends and supporters of Lowden, "war governor," like to tell about the ambitious struggle through which the barefoot farmer boy, son of the village blacksmith at Sunrise, Minn., was able to save through his own work enough money to educate himself at the University of Iowa, begin a lawyer's career and finally to pass from Congressman to Governor of Illinois, and to Candidate for President of the United States.

Lowden's life is the simple life—close to the farm. Shortly after he had entered on his law practice in Chicago, he bought Sinnissippi Farm, one of the largest tracts of land in Illinois. It is located on Rock river, near the town of Oregon. Since he acquired the property, Governor Lowden has taken intense interest in its operation and development.

When the Lowden family is not in Springfield at the Governor's Mansion, it is usually at Sinnissippi. In addition to their own farm, the Lowdens built nearby two cottages on "Hilltop," a pretty eminence on Rock river, where crippled and orphaned boys and girls are brought from crowded tenement districts of Chicago and kept in care of trained nurses until they regain their health.

Mrs. Lowden, who was Miss Florence Pullman, daughter of the late George M. Pullman, sleeping car builder, is a charming personality, devoted to her home and children and at the same time an interested participant in the social, club and philanthropic life of Chicago and Springfield. The dances, receptions and musicales she has given at the Governor's Mansion in Springfield have been noteworthy.

In the late sixties Lowden's parents left their Sunrise home and went by prairie schooner to Hardin county Iowa. Most of the trip Frank covered on foot, driving the cow and a horse or two. On the Iowa farm young Lowden assisted his father with the crops, but his mind was made up that he was going to get an education. He attended a few terms of the country school near the farm and at 15 he had had so far outdistanced his schoolmates, he was made master of the school.

When he was 20 years old he entered the University of Iowa and for four years he had a constant struggle to make both ends meet. He was graduated in 1885, however, at the head of his class. Later Lowden went to Burlington, Iowa, to teach school. While there he spent his odd moments

The plans for a baseball club for Clearfield are being worked out satisfactorily by the Clearfield County Athletic Association and a good team is being whipped together.

The committee in charge is not only arranging for a team but is also in communication with DuBois, Punxsutawney, Osceola, Huntingdon and Philipsburg with a view to arranging a schedule of games between teams representing these towns.

It is the purpose now to start the season about June 1st and continue on thru until October 1st. This would provide a summer of excellent sport and recreation for everybody.

Several good men have already been signed up for the local team and lines are out for others.

TELEPHONE RATES HEARING WILL BE HELD ON MAY 5

A May date will be selected for hearing complaints against the new tariff of the Bell Telephone company by the Public Service commission and the time may be tentatively agreed upon at the executive session scheduled for tomorrow. The Commission decided some time ago to allow enough time for all communities or individuals interested to enter complaints so that when the hearings begin they can be representative of the whole state. The number of formal complaints is small, the bulk of them being from Philadelphia, but enough are in hand to indicate the character of the objections made.

While complaints and protests against the changes proposed by the Bell have been numerous, there have been only a few complaints filed against dozens of other telephone companies which have advanced rates. The Bell has not been without its partisans, either, as several letters have come from people urging a fair hearing.

Indications are that the Commission will go into the matter extensively, but a valuation proceeding is unlikely in view of the attention given to this side of the Bell business in the last four years.

The Commission will probably determine this week whether to reopen the Pittsburgh Railways case, rehearings having been asked by the city of Pittsburgh and some of the boroughs of Allegheny county.

GREAT DAY AT THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

On Thursday one of the most unique and interesting programs ever given in the town, was carried out in the Presbyterian church by the women of the Missionary Society, of which Mrs. J. W. Leonard is president.

The project was called a Relay Mission Study Class. It was indeed a relay arrangement, for twelve women each were responsible for one chapter of the wonderful Home Mission book by Tomkins, "The Soul of America." Beginning at ten in the morning, Mrs. A. B. Weaver, directing the study, opened the race with the presentation of the gist of the first chapter in her own language. She was followed by the second member of the relay team taking up the second chapter, and so on throughout the whole book.

Between each chapter's presentation was a rest period, and relaxation, in fact the whole day's study was most informal. If any had thought it a waste of valuable time studying the vital needs of our own beloved country, they were agreeably disappointed. Many brought their mending, knitting and darning and worked while listening to the speakers.

An hour was taken for luncheon. Each lady had brought a part of a menu decided on beforehand and a most enjoyable luncheon was served in cafeteria style.

Nearly one hundred women of the church enjoyed the unique day's study and relaxation. There were also a number of ladies from the Curwensville and Glen Richey Presbyterian churches. The next meeting of the Missionary Society will be held on the third Thursday of May. Another unique and interesting program is planned. Not only church members are invited, but any who are interested in the world's work.

ENTERTAINS SEWING CLUB

Mrs. Roy Fullington entertained the Inter-Sewing Club at her home on Fourth street Thursday afternoon. Dainty refreshments were served.

HUNDRED THOUSAND FORD FARM TRACTORS HAVE BEEN MADE

On February 19th at 9 a. m. Fordson Tractor Number 100,000 left the assembly line in the Fordson Plant at Dearborn, Michigan, slightly less than two and one-half years after assembly was completed. And here again has Henry Ford set a new high record in the manufacture of farm tractors via the quantity production method.

Although the Ford inventors got very recent entrance to the ranks of the tractor manufacturers, yet Henry Ford really built a tractor—of the steam type—before he started work on his first gas car. And incidentally that tractor and the first car, still in very good condition, and Mr. Ford occasionally demonstrates both to visitors at his farm in Dearborn.

Some fifteen years ago Mr. Ford began work on what has come to be the Fordson. This tractor was really a Ford car equipped with special wheels and included of course some mechanical changes. By 1905 he had a workable tractor; it plowed, harrowed and did much other work on the farm. Then came the years of experimental work, and the first tractor was put on the market.

Fordson tractors are now being assembled at a rate of 350 daily, at Dearborn, 100 at the St. Louis assembling plant, and it is estimated that within a short time the Des Moines branch will be in operation. There is also an assembling plant at Cork, Ireland.

EARL LAUVER FREED ON ROBBERY CHARGE

Earl Lauver, the local boy who was arrested at Salt Lake City in February last, on a charge of having held up three mail clerks and rifled the mail car of a far western road of $200,000 in money, was released by the authorities, after several weeks' confinement when the real robbers—the mail clerks themselves—were taken into custody and confessed to the crime.

That is the story told The Progress this morning by Earl Lauver's father, who resides on Cemetery Road, and who also informed us that his son was home here on Wednesday last, and offered to make good the amount he secured on forged checks which he passed at the Workman's store and Riverside Hotel.

Mr. Lauver says that while in prison at Salt Lake City his son frustrated a jail delivery when he informed the sheriff of a plan among the real robbers of the mail car, to blow up the jail with dynamite in their possession and make their getaway.

WANT ANOTHER BRIDGE ACROSS RIVER

The people of Girard, Covington and Karlsruhe townships are circulating petitions in the down-river section containing a request for the building of a bridge across the river at Bald Hill and expect to present the same to the County Commissioners for action in the near future. This rapidly growing section of the county is badly handicapped for decent, possible roads, and feel that if a bridge could be built at Bald Hill, they would be enabled to get to the state road at Bigler in a six or eight miles from the river.

ON THE CAUSES OF THE STRIKE

When an engine stops running the mechanic is not satisfied with merely getting it started again, but he wants to know why it stopped in the first place, and knowing that something is wrong, he sets about to find that wrong and correct it before greater damage is done to the plant. In much the same manner a physician seeks the cause of the physical ailment rather than the immediate remedy.

The switchmen's strike has been sufficiently costly to warrant a searching probe into its causes, and the cause, when found, should be removed. It is hardly possible that we will ever find that royal road to industrial peace which will banish the strike, but there must be a way of preventing the so-called national or general strikes. They strike at the very vitals of our economic life and retard our national progress. By their business is made a horrible nightmare, and the life of the individual a football of circumstance.

The strike of the switchmen cannot be condoned for a minute. Though it was projected without the approval of the recognized union, this is perhaps the least of the reasons why it did not strike a responsive chord with the majority of the people.

The charges made by Attorney General Palmer to the effect that William K. Foster and other labor extremists had instigated the strike in order to disrupt organized labor, is specifically denied by the American Federation of Labor.

Frank Morrison, secretary of the Federation, in a formal statement, declared there was no revolutionary motive in the ranks of the striking workers, and that the walkout had been precipitated solely as a protest against economic conditions.

An investigation of the so-called outlaws strike has been conducted by the Railroad Managers, Morrison stated, with the result that the charges of revolution brought by the Attorney General "had been disproved."

"I can say that the railroad executives are fully informed as to the character of the strike and they know that the outbreak is under no revolutionary direction," said Mr. Morrison.

Investigators had been appointed by the railroad executive, Morrison said, to make a report on the strike and had found that the strike was "all Americanism and entirely devoid of Bolshevism or I. W. Wism."

"I point to this report and the evidence it contains of governmental weakness in dealing with the situation," Mr. Morrison added. "While the government, through the Attorney General, is contemplating repression and punishment, greeting the strike as a crime, the real employers know that the strike is an outbreak against economic conditions. The tactics of the strikers are wrong and cannot be approved by organized labor, but this does not prevent an honest understanding of the case."

The evidence produced by Mr. Palmer, purporting to show that the strike was the work of the Communist Party, does not make, in itself, a very strong case and while there is no doubt that the strike idea would find a fertile field in the radical mind or the mind nurtured on communist propaganda, the response to the strike call by large bodies of loyal Americans in every railroad center, gives rise to the conclusion that these men had real grievances, and were not conspirators in any attempt or near attempt to overthrow the government or provoke lawlessness.

It will be remembered that the strikers have had wage demands pending ever since before the present railroad wage law was enacted, and that the functioning of the new law was held out to them as a promise of at least giving their demands due consideration. The law was passed, and several weeks have elapsed since the president signed it. No proof of the functioning of that part of the law providing for the appointment of the Railroad Labor Board was to be had by the men affected. The strike broke out in large industrial centers, such as Chicago, Los Angeles and Jersey City, right after there had been a tremendous increase in rents and other living conditions in these centers. It is reasonable to believe that these men took the strike method of forcing the operation of the law.

With the appointment of the Railroad Labor Board and the notice of the preliminary meeting being held, we beheld a return to work by many bodies of men. The delay in appointing the board, therefore, appears to be one of the causes underlying the strike. It is said that there are extenuating circumstances in this delay. The president is reported to have had great difficulty in getting men to serve on the board. Board members are required to live in Chicago, and many of those who were capable and desirable men, would not take up their residence in Chicago. The tone of the summons issued by the president shows that he anticipated the refusal of some of the appointees to act.

Once the machinery of the Esch-Cummings law is in smooth operation, there should be no excuse for further tie-ups of our national transportation systems.

With the Politicians

Picking the presidential nominee is the most popular indoor sport these days and regardless of the scarcity of newsprint we are going to give herewith some lengthy but interesting dope on the general situation as we have been able to glean it from the news this week.

Massachusetts will elect thirty-five delegates at the primaries to be held there today. Delaware will also vote today on their delegation of six members. Wood is expected to get at least twelve of the Massachusetts delegation and probably more. Delaware is expected to follow its traditional custom of sending uninstructed delegates. Illinois voted for Lowden and Tennessee went for Wood. These are the developments of this week.

The Democratic situation, just like the country at large, is tied up with that style of democracy known "Wilson". No Democrat dare speak until the "big chief" in Washington gives the high sign. If anyone can dope out where the president is on the proposition he can make a sure guess on what the Democratic convention will do.

A grand old-fashioned free for all is being staged in Republican circles. Real democracy exists there, not alone in party affairs, but in principles as well. With so many in the field and no one of them having the jump on any other it is quite apparent that a coalition of the followers of two or more of the candidates would land the nomination. There have been hints that the Wood followers, fearing the ironies being made by Mr. Hoover, have made overtures to him but the food dictator, seems to have retained some qualities as a "dictator" and refuses to play. The result in Michigan rather put a crimp in the Wood campaign when Hiram Johnson cleaned him up out there. The charge of great sums of money being used by corporate interests, whether true or untrue, have not added to the popularity of the military man. The Nebraska, Ohio and Indiana primaries to be held in about two weeks will spell defeat or victory for the general as to delegates. Governor Lowden, on account of the close proximity to these three states, may cut in on the Wood lead. Lowden leaders claim that they do not fear Wood as much as they do Johnson who because of his radical tendencies is popular in the middle west. California, the home state of both Johnson and Hoover, will be a storm center. A few weeks ago California looked like a dead horse for Johnson but since that time he is said to have strengthened his fences and will bowl out the food dictator.

Wood, Johnson, Hoover and Lowden are the four Republicans who are most in the public eye and are most watched by political leaders of all camps. The groomers of the dark horses are hoping that these four will go to it, neck and neck and finish in like manner on the eve of the convention. There is a possibility that these four will eat each other up and open up an avenue for the selection of a candidate who has not been embroiled in the primary fights. One thing is quite significant. It is considered almost criminal for a Pennsylvanian to mention Sproul as a candidate for the presidency so far as Mr. Penrose is concerned. There are more popular men in the party than Harding who is believed to be the real choice of the national Republican organization. Sproul is popular, not alone in his native state, but throughout the whole country. Sproul may be the dark horse of the 1920 convention and Pennsylvanians are fervently hoping that he will be.

Mr. Hoover's profession of faith has had little effect on Senator Penrose. The Senator evidently looks upon Hoover's recent utterances as more or less of a death-bed repentance. He refuses to believe that Mr. Hoover is any other than an adherent to the Wilson end of the Democratic party. Speaking of presidential possibilities on the Republican ticket, Mr. Penrose said, "Pennsylvania's delegation will go unbossed and free of back stairs influence, and in position to play a more prominent role than ever before in the deliberations of the convention if they stick together."

It is to be hoped that the Pennsylvania delegation can, and will, stick together. With Johnson, Hoover, Wood and a dozen other active candidates in the field, there is a great opportunity for Pennsylvania, even though she is a sure state, to name the man. Never before have the Republicans of Pennsylvania had a man to name who measures up to the job. This year we have in Governor William E. Sproul, a man who could carry the country this fall in an unheard-of avalanche of votes. Pennsylvanians would breathe a sigh of relief if they were assured that our governor would be given a law when the time comes.

Following on the heels of Bryan's statement that it will be "suicide"

for the democratic party to go before the country supporting Article 10 unchanged, Senator Walsh of Massachusetts says the democratic party faces "a catastrophe in the coming pre-idential election" if the San Francisco convention does not repudiate the stand of the President for unmodified ratification. This is democratic opinion of the consequences of Wilson leadership.

Once more the public interest has suffered from the delay and dilly-dallying of the administration and its failure to give prompt attention to the domestic affairs of the American people. Though the railway act was passed long ago, the President pottered around about naming the rail way labor board under it, just as he failed to fill promptly the vacante on the interstate commerce commission. This failure has been an important cause of the railway strike which has brought critical conditions in numerous centers of population.

A recent act of the Pennsylvania legislature provided for the appointment in each county of a Transfer Inheritance Tax Examiner. The law is now in full force and effect and all inheritances are subject to review by this official. The appointments are made by the Auditor General of the state. For Clearfield county Alton D. Davis, of Clearfield, has been appointed to this position which pays $1200 per year and since it does not require full time and permits the officer to follow other vocations is a most desirable place. Mr. Davis is a fine young man who has won a host of friends, since he came here about a year ago from Philadelphia. He is a native of the upper end of the county and while he worked for some time in Centre county he always claimed Clearfield county as his residence. Mr. Davis is employed as accountant in the office of the Maple Run Coal company and is a brother-in-law of John Forsyth. The appointment was made on the recommendation of Harry Boulton and other prominent Republicans of this county.

At the last moment a number of fellows took a notion to shy their hat into the political arena and ask for public office. Two of these were J. E. Buchanan, of DuBois and J. E. Law of DuBois, both of whom aspire to represent this county in the legislature as Republicans. Mr. Buchanan is a retired furniture dealer of DuBois and Mr. Law is a railroad er by occupation. Both men are hale fellows, well met, and stand well in that community. Wm. T. DeHaas of Clearfield (Cousin Bill) is also in the race and the last we saw of him he was mud from head to feet owing to the "hoofers hack" canvass he is making.

The Progress has received the following letter from H. H. Sweeney

St. Petersburg, Fla., April 12

"Clearfield Progress:
"Dear Sirs: On account of poor health I shall not be a candidate for Republican county chairman at the coming election.

"Thanking my Republican friends for their loyalty and kindness shown to me during my term, I am.

"Sincerely yours for the success of the party.

"H. H. Sweeney, Co. Chairman."

The determination of Mr. Sweeney not to run for the office of county chairman leaves the field clear to Lee Edwards, and assures his election to this office. Mr. Edwards is a young man who is recognized as eminently fitted for the position.

Mr. Sweeney's friends will be sorry to learn of his continued illness and he has every wish of the people of the county that with the coming of the spring his health will be restored to him.

Selection of a chairman for the Republican national convention is already the concern of the various candidates and party leaders. A conference was held in New York today, at which the matter was discussed profoundly. Among those prominently mentioned the Senators Borah, Lodge, Penrose, Knox and Watson.

Joe Phillips is a mighty busy man these days, he being one of the contractors on the new Hotel Phillips, at Phillipsburg, and having half a dozen other jobs to look after. Joe, however, in line with his past activities, can always find time to talk a little politics and is losing no opportunity to keep his friends lined up. As usual, etc. are two to one on Joe leading the ticket on May 18th.

HER BOY HAD ALWAYS BEEN WEAK AND PUNY

Now he eats everything in sight and romps with playmates.

"My four year old boy had been weak and puny since birth, and had constipation and indigestion. Nothing did him any good until we tried Milks Emulsion. Since using it, he can't get enough to eat and has outgrown his childhood troubles. He plays out with the children now, and he was never able to do that before."—Wm. Heart, 424 Bundy Ave., New Castle, Ind.

Weak, ailing children usually start eating and getting stronger from the very first bottle of Milks Emulsion. Most children like to take it, because it really tastes good. A trial costs nothing.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whom sickness has weakened, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day. It produces remarkable results in colds, coughs and bronchial asthma.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere. Guaranteed by Stewart's Drug Store.

Valuable Rules for the Care of Your Eyes

When your eyes have to be frequently rubbed it is time to consult a competent Ophthalmologist.

Don't read with the light in front of you. The light should come obliquely over the left shoulder. Don't read with the sun shining directly on your book. Don't go to sleep or even take a nap in such a position that your eyes will open directly on the light. When you hold the newspaper or book at arm length to read it, its a sure sign something is wrong.

Always hold your head erect when you read and the book about 14 inches away from the eyes.

Use shade on every light. Never read in a recking position. Be sure the light is clear and good. Avoid small print. Rest your eyes while reading. Bathe the eyes frequently with pure water.

FAINTING AND DIZZY SPELLS

The Cause of such Symptoms and Remedy Told in This Letter.

Syracuse, N. Y.—"When I commenced the Change of Life I was poorly, had no appetite and had fainting spells. I suffered for two years before I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and the Liver Pills which I saw advertised in the papers and in your little books. I took about twelve bottles of your Vegetable Compound and found it a wonderful remedy. I commenced to pick up at once and my suffering was relieved. I have told others about your medicine and know of some who have taken it. I am glad to help others all I can."—Mrs. R. E. DEXTER, 437 W. Lafayette Ave., Syracuse, N. Y.

While Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, the annoying symptoms which accompany it may be controlled, and normal health restored by the timely use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Moreover this reliable remedy contains no narcotics or harmful drugs and owes its efficiency to the medicinal extracts of the native roots and herbs which it contains.

Teacher of English Bible in the Moody

LESSON FOR APRIL 18

THE VICTORY OF GIDEON'S BAND.

LESSON TEXT—Judges 7.
GOLDEN TEXT—There is no restraint to the Lord to save by many or by few.—1 Sam. 14:6.
ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Judges 6:1-40; 8:1-25.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Gideon and His Three Hundred.
JUNIOR TOPIC—How Gideon Won a Victory.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Victory by God's Help.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—One With God a Majority.

So grievous was Israel's affliction that they hid in dens, caves and strongholds (Judges 6:2). In their distress they cried unto the Lord, and again he heard them and sent deliverance. The angel of the Lord appeared to Gideon while at the post of duty. God always calls men who are doing something. Gideon's hesitancy when called was not due to unbelief, but to modesty and cautiousness. When once he was convinced of duty he was courageous and enthusiastic.

I. The Opposing Army (v. 1).

Gideon and his army arose early on that eventful day and encamped by the spring of Harod. Over against them was the host of the Midianites in battle array. His army was insignificant in comparison with the Midianites.

II. The Sifting of Gideon's Army (vv. 2-8).

At Gideon's call 32,000 men responded, ready for the struggle. This seemed a small army to go against the Midianite army, 135,000 strong, but God said this was too many lest they be led to boasting and self-confidence. Their real danger was not in their small army, but in their pride. All that were faint-hearted were allowed to go back, leaving only 10,000. There were 22,000 cowards in that group of men, and, worst of all, they were not ashamed to confess it. Still this was too many. When God was through with his sifting process only 300 remained. The 10,000 were brave men, but not of proper quality and fitness. Those who lapped the water showed alertness and watchfulness. This test revealed the quality and fitness of the men whom God would use to win victory.

III. God Gives Encouragement to Gideon (vv. 9-15).

God bade Gideon go down to the Midianite camp, where he would hear something which would cheer his heart and strengthen his hands. When he came near he heard a man tell a dream, which was that of a barley cake tumbling into the camp and smiting it. He also heard the interpretation given to that dream, which made Gideon to be that cake. This greatly cheered his heart and strengthened him for his work, and caused his heart to burst forth in praise to God. A barley cake is a very insignificant thing, a very cheap affair in itself, but with the hand of God upon it, it would be sufficient to spread consternation upon the Midianites and bring destruction upon their armies.

IV. God Gives Victory to Gideon (vv. 16-23).

His army was very insignificant and his weapons most worthless. His attack was unique. The whole matter was of faith (Heb. 11:32). The ground of his faith was God's word and the token which he had given him. God does not ask us to go forward without good ground upon which to rest our faith. Gideon with his 300 men formed into three companies, each man being provided with a trumpet and with a lamp concealed within a pitcher. Thus armed, they surrounded the camps of the Midianites. They were all instructed to keep their eyes upon their leader and imitate him. We, too, are to keep our eyes on our leader, Christ, and to ever do as he does. At the proper moment they blew their trumpets and broke their pitchers, giving opportunity for their lights to shine out. This awful crash of breaking pitchers, following the sound of trumpets, accompanied by the shout, "The sword of the Lord and of Gideon," threw the Midianites into a panic, causing them to fight among themselves. One hundred and twenty thousand were thus slain, leaving but 15,000 of that mighty army (Judges 8:10).

In making the application to ourselves in this age, we can think of the sounding of the trumpets as representing prayer, or calling to God; the torches, as the light of the gospel; the pitchers, our human nature; and the whole, as this treasure in earthen vessels. Only as the pitchers were broken to allow the light to shine forth, and as we sound loud and long the trumpet of prayer can we expect victory.

Doing the Will of God.

The end of life is to do the will of God, whatever that may be; if we could have no ambition past the will of God, our lives would be successful, for the maximum achievement of any man's life, after it is all over, is to have done the will of God.—Professor Drummond.

Say Not.

Say not unto thy neighbor, "Go and come again, and tomorrow I will give," when thou hast it by thee.—Persian Proverb.

Archaeological Discovery.

A most important archaeological discovery was made recently in Gounol, near the Vale of Temple in Thessaly. The Archaeological society unearthed what is plainly a sanctuary to the goddess Artemis, and among the articles found on the spot are some of the most remarkable votive offerings yet discovered in the history of research.

Sunday With the Churches

SPECIAL MEETING OF THE SALVATION ARMY

On Sunday evening at 8 o'clock, Corps Cadet Mary Senger will deliver her farewell address and say good-bye to Clearfield, to go out in the work of bringing the good news to sinners that there is hope for them, as Jesus not only died that they might live, but that He also arose and stands at the right hand of God, the Father, to make intercession for us. "All have sinned and come far short of the glory of God." (Romans III, 23). Some years ago the world was stirred by the "boy preacher," but have you heard Clearfield's "girl preacher?" The Corps Cadet is only 15 years old but you ought to see what God can make out of girl of 15 years. She may be heard on both Saturday and Sunday evenings of this week. Come, you are welcome. God bless you. CAPT. AND Mrs. ROUB. (P. S., Corps Cadet goes to DuBois to assist there on Wednesday.)

GRAMPIAN

Dr. E. A. Pyles, of Williamsport, will hold communion services at Lumbertown, Chestnut Grove and Grampian M. E. churches on Sunday, April 18. If Kidneys Act Bad Take Salts

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers —Meat forms uric acid.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

Coal haulers have advanced the price of coal two cents per bushel, the price now asked being 16 cents. Just why this raise, at this particular time of the year, is hard to figure out. The bank price is just the same today as during the coldest weather, and for what reason two cents per bushel should be tacked onto the consumer is hard to explain. To the people it resembles a get-rich-quick idea, which wants to be knocked in the head quickly.

A number of trout streams were thoroughly tested out yesterday by nummies who delight in that sport. John Kelly and one or two others succeeded in capturing the limit, while Barber Strickland became bewildered in his woodcraft in hill lying between Bear Run and the T. Irvin Run, but succeeded in making his way home, bringing along an appetite and two weary-legged companions, who followed him over mountain and through vale as their guide. Strick ought to join the boy scouts and study woodcraft.

Hot Water Each Morning Puts Roses in Your Cheeks

To look one's best and feel one's best, before putting on your face to enjoy an inside bath each morning.

Girls and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphated hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is just as important as outside cleanliness. Because the skin pores do not absorb limestone phosphate in it, which is a scrub impurities into the blood, where the harmless means of washing the waste bowel pores is.

2 Women who desire to eliminate toxins from the stomach, liver, bowels and bowels, thus clearing the complexion and purifying the entire body, this is a most effective means of doing so.

"MALE AND FEMALE"

A Paramount Arcraft Picture

Adapted for the screen by Jeanie Macpherson

Showing Now to great audiences at America's biggest theatres

THE great new luxurious De Mille Production, "Male and Female," is drawing tremendous crowds at scores of the biggest theatres in America.

This Paramount Arcraft Picture is founded on Sir James M. Barrie's play, "The Admirable Crichton," which has one of the most fascinating plots ever made.

People who have seen the pick of the finest photoplays for years past say Cecil De Mille has broken all spectacular records with "Male and Female."

The dressing and presentation of a motion picture were never done with more lavish and skilful hand.

An endeavor will be made to show "Male and Female" to the entire picture-going public of the country.

"BLIND HUSBANDS" WONDERFUL PICTURE

An unusual story on a daring theme amid awe-inspiring scenery are the characteristics of "Blind Husbands," the Universal film story of the Tyrolean Alps, which opened last night at the Driggs Theatre.

The story carries the spectator to a fashionable hotel in the Alps where an amazing intrigue of love is presented to the most dramatic conclusion imaginable.

A famous American physician finds his wife on the verge of entering into an unsavory alliance with an Austrian officer. He makes the discovery while the weakling officer is in the jagged ice-trap of the mountains, powerless to save his own life.

The climax is a smashing indictment of men who tamper with the wives of other men. It is a vigorous lesson in decency, cleanly told.

Eric Stroheim depicts the role of the Austrian officer. Francella Billington is Margaret Armstrong, wife of the famous American surgeon.

Supporting the two principal players is a strong cast of favorite Universal players, composed of Sam De Grasse, H. Gibson-Gowland, Valerie Germonprez and Jack Perrin.

"Blind Husbands" is in itself a vigorous drama, a beautiful travelogue and an entirely satisfactory and entertaining photoplay. Last showing tonight.

WHO'S YOUR SERVANT?

STARTLING PLAY IS ON THE SCREEN

"Who's Your Servant?" Filmed Form of Drama Which Thrilled New York

Julian Johnson's play which startled New York during its long run at the Princess Theatre, has been closely followed by its sensational filmed version, "Who's Your Servant?" which will be seen at the Liberty Theatre next Monday afternoon and evening. It is the most thrilling and vivid study of that most treacherous of criminals, the plotting house servant, which ever has been seen upon the screen.

One of the central figures of the picture is a valet, who is an Oriental, educated in an American University, in love with riches and fine living, and still, by reason of his nationality, unable to do anything above menial work in this country. A high naval officer entrusted with some of the most vital secrets of the American

Navy, is constantly waited upon by the house servant, who has the means of knowing the innermost secrets which the naval officer possesses.

Steals Secret Plan

For instance, when the official has in his keeping a secret plan of the navy, the house servant finds it out, and steals it. He has been so trusted that suspicion does not fall upon him at once. But the beautiful daughter of the naval officer knows more about the Oriental than do the others. For, on top of his other treachery, he has attempted to make love to the girl. Believing that she can get back the stolen plans, the girl allows the servant to continue his attentions, and goes to his room at night.

There, as he boasts of his theft, she grabs away from him the plan. He starts after her, murder and rage in his heart. How her desperate situation is overcome, and the traitor sent to his deserved end, are told in the picture, the latter end of which is filled with scenes of quick dramatic action.

White House Hopes

In studying law books he was able to borrow or buy.

"While I was in Burlington," said Lowden, recalling his early days, "I was dead set on becoming a lawyer. One day I ran across a man who said he could get me a job in a law office in Chicago. I went to the city and sure enough I landed a job with Herick, Dexter & Allen as clerk at $8 a week.

"That was less than I had been earning as a teacher, but as I was determined to learn something while I worked I considered myself lucky to get even that much."

Lowden enrolled in the Union College of Law's night courses with an additional hour in the morning from 8 to 9 o'clock. Working in the law office from 9 to 5, he was able to go to his classes in the evenings from 7 to 10. Between 5 and 7, after work hours, he did his studying. By strict application, he completed the two-year course in a year.

At commencement, Lowden was pleased to find he had been picked a one of the six men to make addresses. More surprised than ever, he said, he was told that he had been chosen valedictorian. Then on top of all that, Judge Booth, dean of the school, announced, much to Lowden's surprise and delight, that the Iowa had won two $50 prizes, one for oratory and the other for scholarship.

"That gave me a chance to clean up some old debts," said Lowden.

In the early nineties Lowden started out for himself. He formed the law firm of Lowden, Estabrook & Davis and it was only a matter of months before he had built up a reputation of an astute and successful practitioner, a leading member of the Chicago bar.

In 1896 came Lowden's marriage to Miss Pullman.

When Lowden was firmly established as attorney he began to take an interest in politics. In addition to his activity in local Republican politics in Chicago, Lowden was elected as a delegate to the Republican convention of 1900 that nominated McKinley and Roosevelt for President and Vice President, respectively. During the campaign of that year he was on the stump on various occasions pleading for their election.

In 1904 Lowden appeared as a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor. He was defeated by a combination of the Yates and Deneen forces, but when active campaigning against the Democrats began Lowden was on the platform speaking for Charles S. Deneen, who was ultimately elected.

Lowden was elected to Congress in 1906 from the 13th Illinois district. He served two terms and half of the third and then retired to personally supervise operation of his newly acquired farm at Oregon, Ill. From 1911 until 1916 Lowden, although along an interest in politics and national affairs, stuck to his hoe at Mississippi. During most of that time he was a member of the Republican national committee, but never sought office.

When the 1916 gubernatorial campaign opened, Lowden was again on the battleground. Accepting the Republican nomination, he was elected governor by a majority of 149,842 votes and in January, 1917, began his term as "war governor."

In the first legislature convening in the Lowden administration, the Governor obtained enactment of the Civil Administration code, reducing the number of departments, boards and commissions at Springfield from 125 to 9 and centralizing to such an extent that in spite of the high cost of doing business, taxes were lowered.

Wanted Smell to Materialize.

John had been taken by his mother for a long ride to see an old aunt who was slow in getting the dinner on the table. John was hungry, in and could smell the dinner. Finally, in order to hurry things a little, he edged up to the aunt and said: "I'll be so glad when I can taste that smell, won't you?"

Solitudes of the Earth.

The Bushmanland desert, in southwest Africa, is but little known. A few nomads—some of European and some of mixed descent—hang on its fringe. Here and there mat-house villages, whose dwellers depend on the sparse bounty of the sky, will perhaps be found for a season. Otherwise it is a barren desert of 50,000 square miles.

Use Butterflies as Food.

Butterflies, which are very prolific in Australia, are suffocated in millions by the aborigines and separated from their wings, pressed into cakes and eaten.

Girl's Best Compliment.

Perhaps the highest compliment ever paid by one girl to another came to our ears yesterday when we overheard the former say: "Why, she'd look pretty in a danseette nightgown."

Excess of Food Blamed.

Dr. Pritchard, an English practitioner, believes that most of the digestive troubles of infants and young children are due to excess of food. And, besides the direct derangements of the stomach and intestines, these have an effect upon the whole system and may in the long run make it more susceptible to catching other diseases.

Flaws in Diamonds.

Flaws in the diamond consist largely of black or carbon spots. These are formed of uncrystallized carbon. Nature in the case of the spotted diamond stayed her hand before she had completed the process of perfect crystallization.

"Many a Mickle."

If every home—we have 20,000,000 of them—should waste on the average one-half cup of milk daily, it would mean a waste of 2,500,000 quarts daily—912,500,000 quarts a year—the total product of more than 400,000 cows.

Hard Task.

"You can't always tell the size of a man's head because he wears a six and a quarter hat," remarks the Nashville Banner. Not unless you have a good light and a microscope, anyway.

Heard on a Car.

"I thought my first husband snored badly enough, but, oh, dear! John was a solo snorer, while my present husband tries to imitate the entire orchestra."—Boston Transcript.

Ring Strangely Recovered.

A wedding ring was found in the stomach of a cod caught on the Grand banks. The ring belonged to Mrs. Pauline Burnham, an English woman, who had lost it when the steamship Anglo-Saxon went down in 1861. The fisherman traced the ownership of the ring and sent it back to the son of Mrs. Burnham, who is said to have rewarded him with a present of $250.

Hare an "Old Settler."

With a known lineage trailing through 3,000 dusty years the hare may well be called one of the ancient inhabitants of the earth. Among the oldest Jews the hare and its near relative, the coney of the rocks, were excluded from the ranks of edible animals; but as the flesh of the hare was found to be both nutritious and wholesome the prejudice against it gradually disappeared and it began to be grown and domesticated for food.

Mourned His Insulted Country.

It is related of Thiers, celebrated French statesman who died about 40 years ago, that so long as there was a German soldier on French soil he always used notepaper with a deep black border.

To Darken Hair Apply Sage Tea

A few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur brings back its vigor, color, gloss and youthfulness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not unattractive, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with

420,000 Calls From Which We Derive No Income

Our free radius calls have cost us a vast amount of money. And from the free radius we derive no income except from pay station calls, and that amount is negligible.

Figures show us that between the Philipsburg and Clearfield sections there were more than 420,000 calls during 1919. These calls originated from all classes of 'phones for which you were paying a rate that did not meet the expenses of the exchange on which you are a subscriber.

Yet there was an eighteen mile stretch that must be kept intact thru the summer with its disastrous lightning, and the winter with its wire-breaking sleet. And from that huge investment in wire, poles, insulators, cross-arms, braces, etc., we derive no income except the pay station income.

Is that a fair deal? Ask yourself.
